

FCC Commissioners
The Federal Communications Commission RE: Docket 04-435
445 12th Street, SW
Washington, DC 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners ,

I am writing to voice my concerns about the FCC's proposal to relax the restrictions on the use of cell phones on airplanes in flight.

There is no hard evidence that cell phone use doesn't interfere with navigational instruments. The introduction of cell phone use in the cabin will not only increase tension among passengers, it will compromise flight attendants' ability to maintain order in an emergency. Cell phone use could also enable terrorists to coordinate a plan of action more effectively.

I personally resent the intrusion and lack of consideration of others by people using cell phones. And I particularly abhor the possibility of horrible air crashes that could be caused by their interference with crew communications in flying the plane. Cell phones are the worst annoyance in public space since overloud music for unwitting public consumption.

Please leave the current rules in effect.

Sincerely,

Kristen Zehner
